Costume of the Summer Girl

Closely Is Fitting Nature

Little or Nothing Is Left to Imagination, and

Even a Three-Cornered Smile Fits in

With the Straight Lines.

That old saying "It is the same old girl, with the same old curl," is no longer appropriate. The summer girl of 1913, now in our midst, has discarded all frills and answering the call of "back to nature," appears in the simplified garb, which has done much to complicate domestic life in many homes.

Of course, it all depends upon the version you place upon the "simplified," whether you will admit the summer girl of this season is a brand new article. In bygone days the summer girl adorns her person with ruffles and other fluffy things to such an extent that it would be hard to guess her weight, but the girl of the present day has "simplified" things, she leaves nothing to your imagination.

She certainly cannot be accused of false pretenses for never before has there been impressed upon us such a vivid idea of what style must have been in the Garden of Eden.

Simplified Dress Appears.

One has to stand but a few minutes on F Street before this simplified dress is apparent or rather transparent. Shortly there will pass a girl you never would have recognized if it were not for the dimple in her chin. What used to be all curves, is now but a shadow of her former self. Even the coyness of the smile which captivated you in bygone days is missing.

You know her to be the same girl, but she has left behind her hips, bust, and all her curves, and arrayed in scarcely more than a new sort of a Chinese parasol and brand new triangular smile, saunters forth to new conquests. The new style girl scarcely can be said to be less attractive than the old. In fact she is something of a new creature. She seems interesting.

The three-cornered smile is her very recentest. The F Street Johnnies, many who just have returned from their two weeks' vacation—one week without pay—declare that the new wrinkle is all the go in the fashionable watering places. Social buds who have practiced the new smile for three months may be seen any day smiling three corners at those who pass. A new three-cornered bow is being devised to accompany the triangular smile.

The absence of bust, hips, and coyness is another feature of the present-day summer girl. She is utterly without them. She seldom frowns, seldom apparently is more fashionable. Simplicity is the motive of her get-up, so, of course, the hips and bust had to go. All curves have been tabooed. In order to be tolerated at all you will have to be naturally slender, and the new-summer girl who leans somewhat toward plumpness will have difficulty in being stylish. The simple, slender, sylphlike girl is all the rage.

Hats Also Are Flimsy.

Another of the added attractions of the summer girl of 1913 is the "butterfly" hat. Just as women's gowns at the present moment are made of the flimsiest, flimsiest, and the most wispy material, so also their hats are of the lightest character. Many of them seem to consist merely of a huge upstanding bow of tulle, attached to a little bag of transparent tulle just large enough to sit on the head.

A few of these "butterfly" hats weigh as much as an ounce. Ten of these "myths," costing $15 per, will only last as long as two straws at the same price. The life of many of these "butterfly" hats is estimated at a day, for after a shower they resemble a shapless mass of wet tissue paper.

The new parasol "loaned" by the Chinese is shaped somewhat like a pagoda, with tiered, and it is sharply pointed and droops like the top of a Chinese temple. Although odd, it is very convenient to hide under while carrying on a summer flirtation, and most of the 1913 summer girls will flirt a wee little bit, and who could resist all of the follies of 1913?

The present-day summer girl's making eyes at you from under the fringe of one of the new-fangled parasols is as irascible as the summer girls of yore, and all of the follies of summer romances are to be repeated ere the cooling breezes of fall cause the retirement of the 1913 summer glory.

Colonial Beach Excursions.

The steamer St. Johns will leave the Seventh Street wharf today at 2:30 p. m. and tomorrow at 9 a. m. for its regular week-end trips to Colonial Beach, Washington's Atlantic City. It is expected that a large crowd will make the trip. Colonial Beach offers many attractions to the pleasure seekers. One of the most appealing features is the salt water bathing. The opportunity for fishing and crabbing also presents itself. Boating may be indulged in by those who love the water. Persons desiring to ride through the beautiful country in which Colonial Beach is located will find scores of carriages and automobiles for hire at reasonable rates. There is a wide range of amusements. The dancing pavilion is a large one, situated directly over the water's edge, where the cool breeze is always blowing and the dancing floor is in excellent condition.

Enjoyed Theater Party

The President occupied a box at Poli's Theater last night. He was accompanied by the Postmaster General, Mr. Burleson; the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. McAdoo, and his personal aid, Dr. Cary Grayson, U. S. N.

The Secretary of State, Mr. William Jennings Bryan, has returned to Washington from the Middle West.

Mrs. Henry F. Dimock formally has announced the engagement of her daughter, Mrs. Susan Dimock Hutchinson, to Mr. Giuseppe Catalani, Counselor of the Italian Embassy. It is said that the wedding will be the social event of Bar Harbor this summer. The announcement comes as no surprise to their many Washington friends, as it was first mentioned in the columns of The Washington Herald. The secret of their engagement became known while Mrs. Hutchinson was in Europe.

Mrs. Dimock already has leased the Morgan residence on Scott Circle for the coming winter, and will entertain on the same lavish scale as marked her hospitality last winter.

Mrs. Hutchinson will prove a welcome addition to the ranks of the Diplomatic Corps, where her delightful personality already has won her many friends. Mr. Catalani is one of the most popular of the bachelor diplomats.

The Rev. Dr. C. Ernest Smith, rector of St. Thomas' Church, and his daughter, Miss Barbara Smith, will sail for London today on the Minnewaska, of the Atlantic Transport Line.

They are due in London on August 4, after spending a week there, and will take passage on the Great Eastern Mail Packet Line. Their first port of call is Cherbourg, in France, then the Azores, which belong to Portugal; Trinidad, Barbados, points on the Central American coast including Panama, Jamaica, Cuba, and thence to New York, where they are due on the 10th of September.

Miss Marcha and Miss Helena Smith are spending the summer in Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Miss Helen A. Townsend, of Providence, R. I., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Roy S. Lovell, at her home here.

Lieut. K. C. Palmer, U. S. A., who is spending his leave of absence at Bar Harbor, Me., with his mother and sister, Mrs. Aulick Palmer and Miss Palmer, went yesterday to New York, where he will meet his brother, Mr. J. A. C. Palmer, who will return with him by way of Narragansett, arriving in Bar Harbor on Tuesday.

Americans Attend Ball

The American Ambassador and Mrs. Page, their daughter, Miss Page; Commander Powers Symington, and Mr. and Mrs. Waldorf Astor were among the guests at the state ball at Buckingham Palace Wednesday night, the last court function of the London season. Prince Arthur of Connaught and the Duchess of Fife danced in the opening quadrille d'honneur.

Queen Mary wore a dress of pale blue brocade, with corsage and panel trimmed with crystal and diamonds embroidery. She also wore a diamond crown and a collar of diamonds and pearls.

Mrs. George E. Herring, of Fredericks Hall, Richmond, Va., announces the marriage of her daughter, Mary Zeila, to John V. Cooke, of Chicago and Washington. The wedding, which was a very quiet one, was celebrated at the home of the Rev. J. D. Marr in Washington on July 25. Mrs. Cooke expects to reside in Washington, where they will be at home to their friends after August 15.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Henry Brooks, of Michigan Avenue, Brookland, have as guests their son-in-law and daughter, Lieut. and Mrs. Wilson, of Fort Riley, Kansas. The former is a member of the army team in the polo matches at Potosi Park.

Among the passengers sailing today on the steamship Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm, of the North German Lloyd Line, from New York for London, Paris, and Bremen, are the following from Washington: Miss Alene Hardin, Mrs. Amalia Wheeler, Miss Isabelle Wheeler, Mr. Mathis Prapontnik, Miss Emma Woltemann, Miss Fanny Willis.

Summer Foods As Cause of Dyspepsia

Many Also Get Diarrhoea. What to Do in Either Case.

Summer ought to be the months of most perfect health, but owing to contaminated water and milk, unripe fruit, germs, and insects the average of health is not good at this time of the year. There is much skin trouble from cold fruits, and much dyspepsia and diarrhoea from cold foods and lead beverages.

OLD GREEK STATUE SHIPPED TO ATHENS

Two-Thousand-Year-Old Bust Is Sent by Consul General to His Country's National Museum.

The ancient Greek statue unearthed in Baltimore on Tuesday was sent yesterday by Dr. Alexander C. Vouras, charge d'affaires of the Greek Legation here, to the Consul General at New York City, who will forward it to the National Museum at Athens.

This action was taken following the inspection of the statue on Thursday by Brock Parkman Frowbridge, the New York architect and art expert, who declared the bust to be genuine and fully 2,000 years old.

His mind satisfied as to the genuineness of the statue, Dr. Vouras yesterday started the work of art on its way to Athens, from which city it was stolen about fifteen years ago. The charge d'affaires has not yet received any word from his government concerning the statue or its theft.

Arrangements for the excursion were made by the following members of the entertainment committee: Percy V. Hall, chairman; John F. Waterbury, Edward N. Nussner, W. M. Horton, Emmett L. Adams, J. W. Schwenk, and J. O. Montague.

M. H. O'Brien Awarded Scholarship.

Matthew H. O'Brien, son of Matthew E. O'Brien, prominent attorney-at-law of this city, yesterday was notified that he had been awarded a scholarship because of the high grade of his work at Wesleyan University last year. Mr. O'Brien is seventeen years old. He was graduated from Central High School with the class of 1912, and was awarded a one-year scholarship at Wesleyan.

Trunk Straps.

Baggage men sometimes take a strap from a good trunk to put on one that has broken open. Rivet or screw your strap onto your trunk if you wish to be sure of it when you return from your trip.

Many Also Get Diarrhoea. What to Do in Either Case.

The skin trouble is easily stopped by discontinuing fruit for a few days, and by the use of a mild laxative to clean the bowels and tone the blood. The dyspepsia is likewise corrected by the use of a laxative that has combined with it the elements of a digestive tonic. Hence the best remedy to use is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin which, as its name indicates, is a pleasant laxative combined with the virtues of pepsin, which we all know is the best cure for indigestion.

Use Syrup Pepsin also for summer diarrhoea. Avoid stimulants, physics, and cathartics, as they are unnecessary. Thousands of good American families prefer Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, among them those of Mrs. W. A. Taylor, Beloit, Wis., who finds she can give it to her baby without causing cramps or pains, and Mrs. Wm. O. Richter, Clayville, Va., who considers it a laxative tonic absolutely unexcelled. They know of no pleasanter cure for constipation, liver trouble, indigestion, summer diarrhoea, etc. It is valuable to all the family from infancy to old age. Children like its taste. All druggists sell it at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, the latter being the family size.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it, postage paid, by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 413 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

GREAT FALLS TRIPS.

Splendid Scenery and Amusements Draw Crowds to Resort.

Great Falls, for a day's outing, offers with its historic environment, its picturesque beauty, and the varied assembly of summer attractions, a combination of delightful entertainment not to be equaled elsewhere.

And the trip over the Washington and Old Dominion Railway, electrified all the way, traversing the nearby Virginia hill and dale country, rich in scenic effect, adds to the delights of a day spent at the Falls.

Sunday is a big day, and the railway features a special round trip rate at 5c. Adding to the attraction of the trip is the excellent music, electric light effects at night, dancing and swings, and famous chicken or Potomac bass dinners.

If you have never taken the trip to Great Falls, now is as good a time as any. General Passenger Agent J. V. Davis, of the Washington and Old Dominion Railway, has issued a beautifully illustrated booklet about the country and towns which the railway serves, particularly the Blumount section, which he will be pleased to supply to all who are interested free on request.

President's Aid Goes to Winchester. Maj. Thomas L. Rhoads, military aid to the President, has been ordered to report for duty at Winchester, Va., with the provisional cavalry brigade.
